

The Congressional Black Caucus Foundation, in conjunction with Congressman John Lewis,
invites you to attend

Segregated Sundays:
A Policy Discussion about the Lack of Diversity on Sunday Morning Political Talk Shows

Tuesday, April 25, 2006
2:30pm-4:00pm
Mary Pickford Theater
Madison Building, Library of Congress

Millions watch Sunday morning roundtables to gauge public opinion about current policy issues. Are issues of importance to minorities covered, and if so, are they covered from the perspective of these minority groups? Panelists will evaluate these and other questions.

Panelists include:

Paul Brathwaite, Executive Director, Congressional Black Caucus
Stephanie Jones, Executive Director, Urban League Policy Institute
Katherine O'Hearn, Executive Producer, This Week with George Stephanopoulos

Space is limited! RSVP today!

To RSVP, contact Tamara L. Robinson, CBCF Fellow in the Office of Congressman John Lewis, at 202.225.3626 or tamara.robinson@mail.house.gov
